FOREWORD

It is hoped by the members of the staff that this annual will be one of your most cherished possessions, recalling to you, memories of your school days at the Franklin County Training School, of enjoyable associations, and of progress made by you, your friends and the school during the scholastic year 1943-44.

This is the second annual published at this school, and we hope that it will inspire each class or staff in the future, to continue its publication.

The staff wishes to extend its sincere appreciation to its sponsor, the principal; Reverend A. G. Coley, and the other members of the faculty, student body, and its friends throughout the community, who by their contributions and assistance have made the publication of this annual possible.

The Staff of The Franklin Reporter
and of the "FRACOTRASCHO."

DEDICATION

To Miss Mary R. Perrin whose energy, initiative, and earnestness, was largely responsible for the first number of "THE FRACOTRASCHO".

CLASS HISTORY

Age is not all decayed. It is the ripening, the swelling of the fresh life. Within it things wither and then burst from the husk. Each age is a dream that is dying, or one which is coming to birth. The class of 1944 has already passed through the following ages: The first age was that of "ignorance". As a group of green Freshmen we entered high school in September of 1940. Our class was then the second largest class of this school. We plodded along a winding road leading to Franklin County Training School. We never dreamed of the various changes time would bring.

How green we were during that first age. However, it was not long before we found that everyone expected us to be that way. The Freshman class then had two divisions. Miss M. R. Perrin was the sponsor of the "A" Division. Mrs. B. E. Underwood, the "B" Division, and Mrs. M. B. Payton the "C" Division. Mary Belle Branch became president of the "A" Division, Bessie Foster headed the "B" Division, and Walter Edgerton led the "C" Division. We went directly to work by winning the popularity contest with the splendid aid of Miss Lillian Massenburg who was crowned "Miss F. C. T. S." at the Homecoming Football game. Then with the aid of our teachers who helped us to rise from the age of "ignorance" the green freshmen became more dignified.

Before the close of the second semester, the oratorical contest was held. We had long dreamed of the taking place in our lives as it seemed as our dreams were about to come true as school closed. We returned to our respective homes.

The next age was that of "Wisdom". We entered school as sophomores and with a much smaller group. This year the class had only two divisions, "A" and "B" with Mrs. Underwood and Miss Perrin as our sponsors, and Russell Wilkins heading the "A" Division and Edward Arrendell president of the "B" Division. Some of us did things in the years before which now seemed foolish to us. As sophomores, we spent a large part of our time teasing the freshmen, then after a short while we began to work. Some of our classmates became members of the Debating Team. These were: Russell Wilkins, Sallie Johnson, Mary Johnson, Baxter Yarborough and Annie Kelley. During this year, another popularity contest was held, and Mary Willie Johnson became "Miss F. C. T. S." at the Homecoming Game.

We were very glad that eight of the sophomores were fortunate enough to be selected as waiters at the Junior-Senior Banquet. They were: Mary W. Johnson, Cleora Grisson, Bessie L. Foster, Annie B. Perry, Beautrice Edgerton, Sallie Johnson, Russell Wilkins, and Walter Edgerton. Another year rolled on, and a large number of us completed the work of our grade and were ready to enter the Junior Class. We were very sorry to lose one of our beloved classmates, Mary W. Johnson, who is now living in Baltimore. This year the class had decreased to a smaller number.

Later the class organized and elected its officers who were: Edward Arrondell, President with Mrs. Underwood and Miss Perrin as our sponsors. Our class took active part in the "Big Broadcast" and was lucky enough to win first prize. Later we sponsored a party for Halloween and it was held at the home of Zelma Anderson. A number of the students of this class were among the members of the cast of "Elmer and The Lovebug." Edward Arrondell was the Lovebug. Others participating were: Bessie Foster, Arthur Alston, Ezell Gibson, Annie Kelley, Josephine and Sallie Johnson, Beautrice Edgerton, Cleora Grisson, and Annie Perry.

We were very sorry to lose one of our beloved teachers, Mrs. Underwood who resigned to accept work at her home, but we were glad that Reverend A. G. Coley who filled her place, has been our sponsor since. Later, the other sponsor, Miss M. R. Perrin resigned to accept work in Winston Salem at Atkins High, and this left only Reverend Coley to us.

On August 23, 1943, we re-entered school again with still a smaller class, having exactly one-third of the number we had when we were freshmen, but the few remaining ones struggled very hard to remain until the end. So at last we have completed the long hard journey through high school. The Class of '44 presented the "Big Broadcast" and we also presented our Senior Play on April 5th entitled "For Money or Love." Those taking part were: Edward Arrondell, Essie Driver, Ivory Harris, James Pearce, Cleora Grisson, Ezell Gibson, Louise Greene, Beautrice Edgerton, Clyde Davis, and Zelma Anderson. We were very sorry to lose one our classmates, Baxter Yarbrough to the Navy.

A number of students played important parts in the program of Extra-Curricular activities from this class. They were as follows: Student Council- Cleora Grisson, Bessie Foster, Essie Driver, and Irene Wright. Football: Ivory Harris, James Pearce, Edward Arrondell, and Arthur Alston.

Basketball: Edward Arrendell, Arthur Alston, Ezell Gibson, Leonard Hawkins, Anna Williams, Sarah Williams, Bessie Foster, Zelma Andersob, and Annie B. Perry.

Glee Club: James Pearce, Ivory Harris, Van Ellis, Russell Wilkins, Gkylo Davis, Leonard Hawkins, Arthur Alston, Ezell Gibson, Annie B. Perry, Annie J. Kelley, Sallie and Josephine Johnson, Cleora Grissom, Lucy Williams, Zelma Anderson, Dora Davis, and Bessie Foster.

Stage Show: Bessie Foster, Josephine and Sallie Johnson, Leonard Hawkins, Ezell Gibson, Edward Arrendell, and Annie Perry.

Finally, we decided to leave the school some shrubbery in order to assist in beautification of the grounds. We really have enjoyed the years we have spent at dear old F. C. T. S.. They were pleasant, and well spent by us. In the coming years of the future, we hope that each student will be much more successful in life than he or she has already been.

We, the members of the Class of 1944, hope that the future classes will profit by our motto: "Cooperation Is The Road To Success."

Annie Blanche Perry

Annie Jeannette Kelley.

I

We, The members of the Class of 1944, being of sound mind and body, but realizing that our days in this school are limited, and having certain real and imaginary effects of which we wish to make proper disposition, do hereby, declare this to be our last Will and Testament.

II

To the proud Juniors who will take our places, we will, first, the privileges of Seniors, The characteristics and responsibilities, and mat they at all times be acting in accordance with the dignity which should be theirs as Seniors; and may they seek at all times to preserve unity.

III

To the Sophomores, we will and bequeath the knowledge and popularity which our class enjoyed.

IV

To the ambitious Freshmen, the most energetic of them all, whose minds are over upon new things that face them daily, that the traversing of their hard thorny way, may end in success and great honors, and ever remember that the greatest theme of literature, is love.

To the certain individuals listed here-after, we do bequeath the following:

- To Jessie Yarborough, Annie Kelley wills the ability to sing.
- To Samuel Hazelwood, Arthur Alston wills his football ability.

CLASS GIFT

I deeply appreciate the sincerity of my classmates who chose me as their spokesman for tonight. I feel honored that such a task has been thrust upon me. In speaking, I believe that I am expressing the sentiments of my classmates. Our four years here consisted of hard work, cooperation, and finally success. We believe this to be true, on the part of the faculty and student body, as well as ourselves. It is without doubt that we are now entering a new and responsible place in life. It is new because of further advancement. It is responsible because it is up to us to take advantage of new advancing opportunities. We have been trained and qualified by an encouraging group of persons, our parents and our faculty.

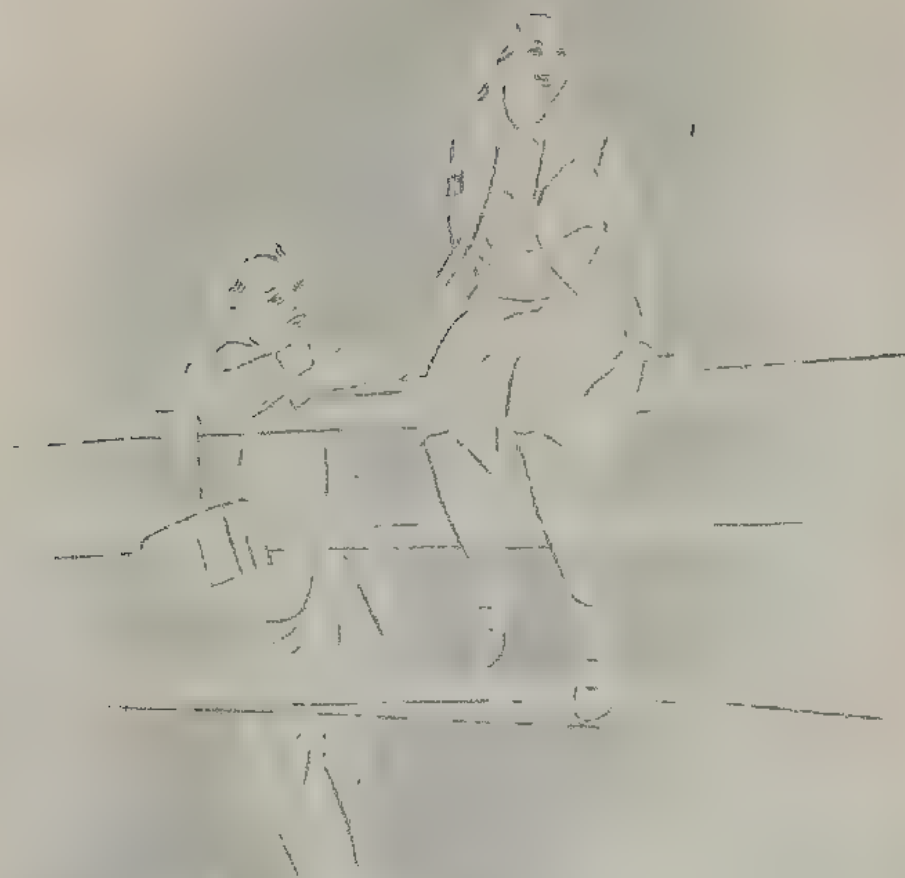

We have been trained and qualified by the unending cooperation and undying love of those ladies and gentlemen. As we climb the ladder of Citizenship, we will show our appreciation and gratitude to the best of our ability, but for the present, and until then, we hope that our parting gift will be remembered and appreciated by those who are yet to share the buildings and grounds of this institution.

We hope that the shrubbery which we have caused to be planted around the buildings will serve as an inspiration to others to do all that is possible to further beautify the grounds.

I am extending to the faculty and student body and parents, on behalf of my classmates, our deepest appreciation for their sincere cooperation which served to help us to reach this goal for which we have long strived.

Thank you and good evening.

Lucy Christine Williams.
